Weekly News from BBMS!

Dear BBMS Families,

We hope you had a wonderful Thanksgiving with friends and family. Students are now into routines, first quarter report cards are out, and MAP scores came back. We have three weeks of school before the winter break. This is a critical time to see if students are doing their absolute best as they begin preparing for winter MAP testing (begins Feb 5). That may seem like a long way away, but it will be here before we know it. Our goal is to see each and every student meet the benchmark score for their grade in ELA and Math. We know that MAP is a great indicator for high school readiness - thank you for encouraging this at home too!

On another note, did you see our TWITTER page this Friday? We posted pictures of dads who helped high five students into school - what a great way to start the day! Thank you PTA and the FBI committee for helping increase parent involvement in school. Our next push will be to see parents come help during lunch (checking hall passes, etc.), with after school programs next semester, and by mentoring individuals. We can't thank you enough for your involvement. We hope to see you on December 13 at our next PTA meeting (7pm)!

See you soon!

Drew Cockley
Principal
