April 20, 2020

Dear BBMS Families,

Technology Update - we are hearing from families that shipments did not arrive as scheduled by HCPSS on Friday. If you have not received a device, please email me at andrew_cockley@hcpss.org. We will check your request and monitor the delivery. We've notified our teachers that students may not have the ability to connect today and they are going to be very patient with students this week as you acquire the needed tools to be successful in online learning. We are sorry that this is occurring and appreciate your patience during this time.
