GT News - The GT Summer Institute course list is now available online at <https://www.hcpss.org/summer-programs/> as a PDF under Program Description.

Registration will open February 1st. Details are available on the Summer Programs page.

New this year: Registration requests will be taken online and in person on designated days in the first two weeks of the month. Families who put in requests during that time frame will be assigned to the requested classes through a randomized process so that no advantage is given to students who registered on the first day versus the last day of a particular month's registration request window.

No prior participation in GT programming is required as these are all enrichment opportunities.
